THE WEEK IN WASHINGTON.

Minor Events of Interest Occurring in the Capital City.

SUNDAY, AUG. 20 .- There were four rehearsals of the centennial celebration sub choruses this evening. The only rehearsal held in this city was the central division at the Congregational Church. Other rehearsals were held at Alexandria, Hyattsville and Falls Church .- The following has been transmitted to the Marine Hospital Service from the Department of State: "A cablegram has been received from the United States Legation at Rome, announcing the postponement of the International Medical Congress until April 1 next. The delegates from the United States to this Congress are already in Europe en route to Rome. Dr. Dean represented the Medical Corps of the Navy.

MONDAY, Aug. 21.-The cable line here claimed its third victim from among the members of Congress. A few months ago Representative Hooker, of Mississippi, was thrown from a car and injured seriously; Representative Oats, of Alabama, is still suffering from concussion of the brain. To-night Representative George W. Shell, of South Carolina, was knocked down and trundled along beneath the fender of a cable car for some distance. He was badly cut about the head and bruised as well .- Logan Camp, No. 2, Sens of Veteraus, went to Marshall Hall, where an attractive program was rendered for the entertainment of their guests. Gen. S. S. Burdett was present, and delivered an address. The G.A.R. Musical Union rendered popular selections. Solos, duets and quartets by wellknown performers on banjo, guitar and mandolin tended to make it an enjoyable evening. A select daucing program was arranged. TUESDAY, Aug. 22.-Commissioner Browning, of the Indian Bureau, has renewed the contract with the Bernalillo Indian School, conducted in New Mexico by the (Catholic) Sisters of Loretto. Under Commissioner Morgan Inspector Keck was sent from Washington to make an investigation. He reported dozens of pupils who were not Indians, but who had been faisely represented as such, and for whose support a contract had been entered into with the Indian Bureau. Gen. Morgan annuiled the contract, of course. Lately, however, Gen. Armstrong, the present Assistant Commissioner, sent Special Agent Cooper to visit the school. While away Mr. Hamlin visited Boston and nipped in the bud a proposition to give him the Gubernatorial nomination .- The Postmaster-General was to-day invited to attend the fourth annual Convention of the National Association of Letter Carriers, to be held at Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 10 to 22. Mr. Bissell will accept if his official duties will permit, and if not, will be represented by either the First Assistant, Mr. Jones, or the newly-appointed Superintendent of Free Delivery, Mr. Meachen. - Special Examiner R. There was a good deal of quiet laughter indulged in at the expense of Senator Voorhees on account of his speech last week. In fact, some of the Democratic Senators seemed to regard Voorhees's attitude as a huge joke. The Indiana Senator let slip several colossal misstatements which have been hilariously commented upon. One of the silver Senators said that Voorhees's position reminded him of a Judge who heard a case on the border in regard to the return of a slave who had escaped from Kentucky. The Judge laid down the law in favor of the North and then ordered the slave returned to the South. Another Senator remarked that the bill for unconditional repeal would finally pass the Senate; "but," he manship. added, with a laugh, "if a few more speeches like that of Voorhees are made in behalf of repeal the bill will certainly be killed." population mere guess-work. A cursory examination of the new Congresconcerning the make-up of the present Conthen. The oldest man in the Senate is Justin S. Morrill, of Strafford, Vt., who was born in 1810, and is a merchant. Moreover, he is the Nestor of Congress, having served 39 years. The youngest of them is Edward O. Wolcott, of Denver, Colo. He was born in 1848 in Massachusetts, and is a lawyer by profession. The rest of the Senate is made up of 61 lawyers, of the 51st Congress, and I think it a great pity | four capitalists, three journalists, two lumbermen, two manufacturers, one merchant, one railroad official, one miner, one stock-raiser, one car builder, one doctor, two bankers, one planter, and six quarrymen. Worthy Objects. The Abraham Lincoln Memorial Hall Association was incorporated June 30, 1890, under the laws of the District of Columbia. Its objects are: First, to secure and maintain in whatever methods shall be deemed most feasible a hall bearing the name of this organization, for the use and benefit of the members of the Grand Army of the Republic, Department of the Potomac, and other soldiers, sailors, and marines of the United States in the late war of the rebellion in the District of Columbia and elsewhere; second, the adoption and promotion of plans and actions in accordance with the purposes of the Grand Army of the Republic, for the relief, comfort, support, and welfare of the needy members thereof, their wives, widows, and orphans; third, the cultivation and diffusion of the principles of the highest and best States-

This Association now memorializes Congress to lease to the Association old "Ford's Theater" for the purposes set forth, at a rent not over $100 a year. This plan has been twice indorsed by the National Encampment, G.A.R., at Boston and at Detroif, and will be introduced at the coming Encampment at Indianapolis.

The memorial and bill will be at once introduced in both Houses of Congress. The subject will be presented to each Department Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, and through them the comrades all over the country will be urged to co-operate in this purpose of dedicating and maintaining that historic building as a Memorial Hall.

The following is the memorial: The war of 1861-65 left to the people of the United States the heritage of two sacred memories.

The memory of Abraham Lincoln, patriot and President, who gave his life for his country's good; and those patriotic defenders who gave their lives that the Union and the Republic might live. These memories center about the Nation's Capital, where the survivors of the war and their descendants will gather as about a holy shrine. The spot most sacred of ail is where Lincoln fell.

It is eminently fit that the survivors of the war should be made the custodians of that hallowed place and the mementoes gathered there. The Grand Army of the Republic represents in the fullest and highest sense that great body of survivors. Therefore, in order to perpetuate these principles the (undersigned) members of the Grand Army of the Republic, a committee representing the incor-porators in articles of incorporation of the Abra-ham Lincoln Memorial Hall Association, filed in the office of the Recorder of Deeds of the District of Columbia on the 2d day of July, 1890, a copy of which is hereto attached, earnesily petitions the Congress of the United States that the building in Washington in which President Lincoln received his death wound, said building being the premises described in the act of Congress, approved April 7, 1866, to wit: "The property in Washington City known as Ford's Theater, located on Tenth street. N. W., now by purchase the property of the United States," be given into the custody and control of the aforementioned Association, said building to be known and maintained as the "Abraham Lin-coln Memorial Hall," wherein shall be kept a publie library and museum, in which shall be collected and preserved historical manuscripts, books, records, and relies relating to the war, and shall sional Directory reveals many interesting facts be used for the purposes of the Department of the Potomac, Grand Army of the Republic, and be devoted in all other ways to the patriotic purpose gress. ABOUT PEOPLE. Black of Georgia is one of the most conspicuous figures on the floor of the House. Down in the watermelon State he has been known for years as the orator par excellence. It is conceded that as a master of extemporaneous eloquence-for even if he writes a speech, under the inspiring excitement of delivery he soars away from its hampering circumscription like an unfettered falcon-he stands without a peer in his State, if not in the whole South. Hon. George O. Jones, the father of the greenback, was met the other day. Everybody in Washington knows Mr. Jones for his writings and advocacy of the greenback cause. With such a fog of financial talk being stirred up here Mr. Jones could not find it in his heart to remain elsewhere. He taks greenbacks with all his old-time fervor, and, as the next best thing, is for the cause of silver heart and located at the foot of the main street of the city and on the far-famed boulevarde of the city, adjoining the great Pacific Ocean. It was a most successful gathering of the old soldiers from all parts of the State. Commander-in-Chief Weissert was present for three days of the time, and stirred up the camp to the highest pitch of enthusiasm. Department Commander Seymonr and Past Department Commander Buckles, Assistant Adj't-Gen. Masteller, and Aid to the Commander-in-Chief Barrett all spent the entire 10 days in camp. A tent, 62x100 feet in dimensions, was pitched and seated, and the old boys and their friends filled it to overflowing nine nights out of the ten, and on the 10th the citizens of Santa Barbara, headed by Starr King Post and Corps, gave an open-air concert and reception on the esplanade of the boulevarde. More than 5,000 people were in attendance upon the reception. The register shows that over 400 old comrades attended the Encampment, and the W.R.C. and the S. of V. and visiting friends ran the total number in camp up to over 2,000. Comrade Hobart was worthy of the utmost praise for his labor in making the Encampment a success. Comrade Kutz, of Los Angeles, was elected Encampment Commander for the coming year, and Comrade Dill, of San Diego, Senior Vice Commander, and Comrade C. A. Storke, Santa Barbara, formerly of Co. G, 36th Wis., Junior Vice Commander. This Association and its Encampments are beginning to attract attention from all over the United States, and already comrades from the far East are promising to be present at the next Encampment. The location of next year's Encampment will be determined in January next, but it certainly will be beside the sea and in a charming location. There were representations at this Encampment of every section of the Union, and of over 300 different organizations during the war.
